Speaker: J. Kennerly Davis, Jr.

Senior Attorney, Former Deputy Attorney General for Virginia

TOPIC: The Origin and Rise of Marxism in America

Ken Davis has over forty years of experience in corporate management, public service, and the private practice of law. In 2013 and 2014, Ken served as Deputy Attorney General for the Commonwealth of Virginia. Combining the perspectives of an attorney, economist, and businessman, Ken writes and speaks frequently on a variety of topics related to regulation and regulatory reform, capitalism, property rights, the rule of law, and economic development. His articles have appeared in a number of publications, including The Wall Street Journal, the Washington Examiner, the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the Federalist Society Review, the FedSoc Blog, and reports of the Center for Strategic & International Studies. Ken graduated magna cum laude from Cornell University with a B.A. degree in Government in 1968. In 1970, he earned an M.A. degree from Pembroke College, Oxford in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. He was awarded a J.D. degree from Harvard Law School in 1974 and was awarded an M.B.A. degree from Virginia Commonwealth University in 1993.
